

JUNG-PAN WANG, M.D., PhD (王榮礪)

Dr. Jung-Pan Wang was trained in Taipei Veterans General Hospital. He got the Board of Orthopaedics in 2004, and he got the Board of Hand Surgery in 2005. He started to serve in the Department of Orthopaedic Surgery from 2008. He devoted himself to the hand and microsurgery. In 2014, he was supported by the Department and trained as a Research Fellow in the Hand and Upper Extremity Surgery, Hospital for Special Surgery, New York. After coming back from the United States, he kept on serving in Division of Hand and Microsurgery.

Professional Activities

- 2005- Member of Taiwan Orthopaedic Association
- 2006- Member of Taiwan Society for Surgery of the Hand
- 2012- Member of Orthopaedic Research Society
- 2015 Member of American Society for Surgery of the Hand
- 2016- Vice Secretary of Taiwan Orthopaedic Trauma Association
- 2017- Associate Professor, National Yang-Ming University
- 2018- Division Chair, Division of Hand and Microsurgery, Taipei Veterans General Hospital
- 2019- Editor Board reviewer, Journal of Hand Surgery (American & European Volume)
- 2020- Executive Council Member of Taiwan Society for Surgery of the Hand
- 2022-23 Award of Sympol of National Quality
- 2024 President elect, TSSH; General Secretary, APWA
- 2026- President, TSSH

Dr. Wang has published more than 100 scientific articles in SCI Journals (18 in Journal of Hand Surgery). He is an expert in upper limb trauma, stem cells research, microsurgery, wrist arthroscope and peripheral nerve surgery.